

INTERVIEWING: Informational Interviewing

Informational interviews are a low-pressure, highly productive one-on-one conversation with someone to get career advice, build your network and hone your interviewing skills. These interviews are excellent options for plotting a career path or focusing your aspirations.

How to Find People

Miami Alumni Connect and LinkedIn are great tools to find people to conduct an informational interview. To begin, search by majors, companies, industries, etc. to find Miami alumni and professionals who are doing what you want to do, working where you want to work, or have had experiences that you are interested in.

Name	Link to Profile	What interests you about this person?
------	-----------------	---------------------------------------

Reach Out

